

DOLLIN'S DEATH LEAVES MYSTERY

Youth Who Disappeared From Salt Lake Buried in Reno.

NO WIDOW IN AUSTRALIA

FRIENDS SURE HE WAS SINGLE—MONEY IS MISSING.

That Harold Dollin, who disappeared from this city early in February, 1907, leaving behind no trace of his whereabouts, died of pneumonia Feb. 27 of that year in a hospital in Reno, Nev., is information just received by William Thornton, of this city, from William W. Huntley, now of Tehama, Cal. And yet the mystery attending Dollin's disappearance is not altogether cleared. Dollin left Salt Lake about Feb. 5, 1907, going directly to Reno, where Dollin was taken ill and entered the hospital at the Westos hospital Feb. 11. Huntley then went to San Francisco, returning to Reno to ascertain how Dollin came out, he says, and was surprised to learn that he had died. Huntley adds:

Where Money Went.

"He was buried by Perkins & Gilling, undertakers, Odd Fellows cemetery. They informed me that they found $85 in his possession, and that they used $60 for burying him. I understood them to say that they sent the remaining $25 to his widow in Australia. They informed me that he had a nice burial. While the information given by Huntley has not been checked up at Reno, it is taken for granted that the fact of Dollin's having died there is established. Dollin had been for some months working at William Thornton's mine in Alta. Dollin was a young man of exemplary habits; steady, industrious and very saving. A short time before he disappeared he had come to Salt Lake for a brief vacation. He had called upon Thornton Saturday and was to return the following Monday to receive some instructions concerning the work to which he was to return, but Thornton never saw him again.

Mother Makes Inquiry.

The last time he called, Thornton says, Dollin had with him at least $300 in currency, a portion of his savings. Thornton advised him to put the money in a bank, and Dollin said that he would do so, saying that he already had an account at one of the banks, although he did not give the name of the bank. Thornton does not believe that Dollin had a wife in Australia or elsewhere. Thornton had heard him speak of having a sweetheart in Salt Lake. Dollin appeared to worship his mother, who lives in London, England. Soon after his disappearance the mother wrote to Thornton inquiring concerning the whereabouts of her son. Thornton enlisted the services of Sheriff Joseph C. Sharp, but it was a long time before any trace whatever of her son could be obtained. Then it was learned that he had left the city with Huntley, and Huntley was finally traced to his present place of residence in California.

Huntley gives no light whatever upon his relations with Dollin or why the young man left so suddenly without notifying his friends or his mother, to whom he wrote at least once or twice a week.

TELLS HOW TO CHOOSE A WIFE

Rev. Louis S. Bowerman Delivers "Home Making" Series Sermon.

At the Immanuel Baptist church last evening the Rev. Louis S. Bowerman delivered one of the "Home Making" series of sermons. The subject was "Choosing a Wife." In the course of the sermon he said:

"Genesis 24, the chapter has for us the story of the choosing of Rebekah as Isaac's wife.

"When a son has attained the age of 20 years, his father, if able, should marry him, and then take his hand and say, 'I have disciplined thee, and taught thee, and married thee, and now seek refuge with God from thy mischief in the present world and the world to come.' This Mohammedan tradition fairly expresses the idea of the eastern world relative to the father's responsibility. More than 100,000,000 of the human race are under something of this method. In the scene before us, however, Isaac was 40 when Rebekah was married to him, and he was 40 when Rebekah became his wife.

"The lesson of the chapter will face its significance unless we remember Abraham's faith in the Divine promise. In that promise he saw the divine purpose. Every man is key to that, and it is because of this that the man shows the full appreciation of the needs of family character and training. No daughter of the Hittites is qualified through family life and training for being the mother of a chosen people. There needed to be the going back to ancestral association. Abraham seemed to understand the meaning of the proverb, 'As the mother, so will the daughter be.'

Servant for Fifty-Four Years.

"Notice also in the selection of the messenger, the using of the best wisdom. Eliezer had been Abraham's servant for 54 years. He knew his master and he perfectly understood Isaac.

"The story of the meeting at the well is most interesting, but we need to remember the prayer that has preceded. The question was not to find one, but to find the right one. That was Eliezer's great concern. Who was sufficient for this? None was the test, but very qualities needed to answer the test at the well. Were the questions needed to supplement the character of Isaac, for Rebekah was a helpmeet singularly to his mind.

"In this eager, active, ardent and

Invest Your Money Where You Can Get It When You Need It

Men of experience always buy securities which they can turn into money promptly without a loss. Our Mortgage Certificates, issued for $100 and multiples thereof, doubly secured by First Mortgages on Salt Lake Real Estate and our Capital and Surplus, can be cashed at any bank by simply endorsing the transfer. These Certificates yield 6 per cent interest and are free from taxation.

Salt Lake Security & Trust Company

32 Up. Main Street

Capital $300,000.00

Surplus $100,000.00

Put Up Preserves and Pickles?

Want them to come to the Christmas table with their richest and most natural flavor? Squibbs' Spices packed in air tight tins and especially pure are here. Cloves, Cinnamon, Pepper or anything else you need. Telephone—we'll send it.

Wife Can Make or Break.

"What is your plan and aim in life? The woman can make you or break you in that. At once we see the need of carefully studying first one's self, 'Know thyself.' The strong points and the weak ones.

"Then let us also be frank in saying the Father in heaven best knows the character suited to your disposition. Ask for the other life to be brought into acquaintance. Then study that other life. Will the disposition complement your own? Go alone at the eventide and think it all through. You see, I nearly believe in matches made in heaven. Perhaps most are not; however, we believe that some are, and more than one.

"Upon the choosing of the right mate everything for a happy home life depends, and happy hearts are after all home hearts. There is no joy in the remembrance of broken troths and the heartbreak is the unseen evil of the divided home.

"Shall we say take God into your confidence? More than that, remember He is our Father in heaven. Ask for His guidance and await His providence. May it be yours to experience that came to Isaac: 'When he saw her, he loved her.'

Highest price paid for strictly fresh eggs—THE ROYAL CAFE.

SCHRAMM'S

WHERE THE CARS STOP.

Spice Shopp

For Brides

Colonial Silver is a desirable gift. We show today the handsomest effects in colonial designs that skilled silversmiths have produced. Infinite variety, sterling quality, reasonable price.

For Brides

Colonial Silver is a desirable gift. We show today the handsomest effects in colonial designs that skilled silversmiths have produced. Infinite variety, sterling quality, reasonable price.

For Brides

Colonial Silver is a desirable gift. We show today the handsomest effects in colonial designs that skilled silversmiths have produced. Infinite variety, sterling quality, reasonable price.

FIRST IN EVERYTHING

The following comparative statement of advertising carried in Salt Lake's two evening papers of Saturday, Sept. 18 and in Salt Lake's two morning papers of Sunday, Sept. 19, 1909, shows conclusively that both the local and foreign advertisers recognize the supremacy of The Herald-Republican in its territory—

Herald-Republican . morning 188 cols.
Tribune morning 136 cols.
News evening 119 cols.
Telegram evening 44 cols.

Herald-Republican EXCESS:

Over Tribune 52 cols.
Over News 69 cols.
Over Telegram 144 cols.
Over News and Telegram combined 25 cols.
Over Tribune and Telegram " 8 cols.

Average Circulation for month of August, 1909:

Daily only 17,700
Sunday only 27,800

The net paid circulation of The Herald-Republican is guaranteed to exceed that of any other two Salt Lake newspapers.

Circulation Records Open To All

WOMAN SPEAKER GIVES ADDRESS

Miss Luella Twining, Socialist, Holds Forth on a Soap Box.

Miss Luella Twining, speaker for the national Socialist party, addressed everybody who cared to listen, at Main and Second South streets at 5:30 o'clock last evening. Miss Twining was introduced as the woman who had collected $90,000 to defend Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone. She was attired in a picture hat and becoming gown. From her stand on a soap box she talked with all the precision and force of a school of oratory, pronouncing the last syllables of long words with startling distinctness and making use of a quite surprising amount of contrast with shriller accents in moments of excitement.

A dozen enthusiastic disciples applauded whenever she made a pause, but soon they discovered that she ceased at intervals to prevent the noise of the street cars from drowning her voice. After that the disciples were more discerning, but not less enthusiastic.

During her address thousands of people passed by on the sidewalk. Either the subject of her address or her manner of speaking failed to hold the great majority. The average passerby paused for a moment out of curiosity, took a few steps forward and after gazing critically at the speaker passed on without having heard more than a paragraph of her speech. At no time did the police have to clear the sidewalks. Miss Twining spoke of the time assessed against Fred Warren, editor of a radical newspaper at Girard, Kan.

She criticized the sentence of $1,000 fine and six months' imprisonment inflicted because the editor had offered a reward for some one to remove former Governor Taylor of Kentucky from Indiana to Kentucky so that he might stand trial for the murder of Governor Harrison. She told her hearers that former Governor Taylor had offered to return to the Blue Grass commonwealth, but that since the Kansas farmers have begun buying automobiles it is very difficult for the editor of a Socialist publication to obtain money to pay a $1,000 fine.

Kodak Finishing.

Salt Lake Photo Supply Co., 142 Main.

A. S. Campbell, Stock Broker, 318 D. F. Walker block.

Put Up Preserves and Pickles?

Want them to come to the Christmas table with their richest and most natural flavor? Squibbs' Spices packed in air tight tins and especially pure are here. Cloves, Cinnamon, Pepper or anything else you need. Telephone—we'll send it.

Wife Can Make or Break.

"What is your plan and aim in life? The woman can make you or break you in that. At once we see the need of carefully studying first one's self, 'Know thyself.' The strong points and the weak ones.

"Then let us also be frank in saying the Father in heaven best knows the character suited to your disposition. Ask for the other life to be brought into acquaintance. Then study that other life. Will the disposition complement your own? Go alone at the eventide and think it all through. You see, I nearly believe in matches made in heaven. Perhaps most are not; however, we believe that some are, and more than one.

"Upon the choosing of the right mate everything for a happy home life depends, and happy hearts are after all home hearts. There is no joy in the remembrance of broken troths and the heartbreak is the unseen evil of the divided home.

"Shall we say take God into your confidence? More than that, remember He is our Father in heaven. Ask for His guidance and await His providence. May it be yours to experience that came to Isaac: 'When he saw her, he loved her.'

Highest price paid for strictly fresh eggs—THE ROYAL CAFE.

SCHRAMM'S

WHERE THE CARS STOP.

Spice Shopp

For Brides

Colonial Silver is a desirable gift. We show today the handsomest effects in colonial designs that skilled silversmiths have produced. Infinite variety, sterling quality, reasonable price.

For Brides

Colonial Silver is a desirable gift. We show today the handsomest effects in colonial designs that skilled silversmiths have produced. Infinite variety, sterling quality, reasonable price.

For Brides

Colonial Silver is a desirable gift. We show today the handsomest effects in colonial designs that skilled silversmiths have produced. Infinite variety, sterling quality, reasonable price.

For Brides

Colonial Silver is a desirable gift. We show today the handsomest effects in colonial designs that skilled silversmiths have produced. Infinite variety, sterling quality, reasonable price.

For Brides

Colonial Silver is a desirable gift. We show today the handsomest effects in colonial designs that skilled silversmiths have produced. Infinite variety, sterling quality, reasonable price.

For Brides

Colonial Silver is a desirable gift. We show today the handsomest effects in colonial designs that skilled silversmiths have produced. Infinite variety, sterling quality, reasonable price.

For Brides

Colonial Silver is a desirable gift. We show today the handsomest effects in colonial designs that skilled silversmiths have produced. Infinite variety, sterling quality, reasonable price.

YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD A RALLY

Interesting Union Service Is Held in First Congregational Church.

FOUR PASTORS SPEAK

YOUNGER MEMBERS OF CHURCHES ARE URGED TO WORK.

Suggestions from pastors of the city on the part which the young people should play in the church work, and the methods for carrying on this work, formed the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

The Rev. Elmer L. Goshen, pastor of the First Congregational church, was the first speaker introduced, and addressed those present on "Avenues of Work for Young People." Mr. Goshen said that when there are too many persons engaged in the work of the church and the various social agencies, the chief feature of the rally, held Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church by members of the Young People's Christian union, belonging to various churches in the city.

The rally, which was well attended by young people, started at 3:30 p. m. Homer L. Hollingsworth, assistant director of the Young Men's Christian association, presided. The program was opened with a fifteen-minute song service, the singing being led by a chorus of singers from the city. The program was continued with the reading of the Bible, the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union, and the reading of the letter from the Young People's Christian union.

New Store 245 South Main

Original Guaranteed "Holeproof" Sox

We received Saturday a complete line of "Holeproof" Sox for men, hosiery for women and stockings for children in the winter weights. All are guaranteed to wear six months without holes or you get new sox. They're made of fine, soft cotton and are very easy to the feet.

Men's, 25c a pair; Ladies', 35c; Children's, 50c

Poulton-Madsen-Owens Co.

New Store 245 South Main

Acme Quality Paint

is especially adapted to this high altitude and the dry climate. It sinks deep into the wood and lasts longer than any other paint made.

We're glad to answer any questions or offer any suggestions at any time.

Culmer Paint & Glass Co.

Our fine New Store is at

37 East First South

HUNT FOR FEVER MICROBE BEGINS

Artesian Well Water and Flies Blamed for Typhoid Contagion.

Believing that the artesian well water used by the dairymen of Wood's Cross is partly to blame for the present typhoid fever epidemic, several samples will be taken early this week for analysis by City and State Chemist Herman Harms. Practically all of the milkmen in that section use water from artesian wells, and it is now suspected that this water is tainted and has spread the disease.

During the few hours the office of the city board of health was open yesterday no new typhoid cases were reported, and it is expected that many will be reported today. Physicians of Salt Lake are making quicker reports since the outbreak of the epidemic, and the reports are being followed up by officials of the board of health.

Says Flies Are Cause.

Today State Food and Dairy Commissioner Willard Hanson will make investigations in the artesian wells to learn the cause of the outbreak. It is hardly believed that any typhoid case at the Moss Brothers' dairies has caused the outbreak. There were 64 cases during the last week, 37 of which were reported to the board of health Friday and Saturday. The officials believe they city, spoke on "How to Make Young People's Work Attractive." He said it was necessary to get together a good group of people, to put social life into the church and to try to do something in a definite social way. He advised the young people not to go to a book, or to the pastor or an older person, before deciding what they wished to do, but to study it out for themselves and do it in their own way. He said an effort should be made to create a social atmosphere in the church and its societies, saying that the church is a social organization and human nature is social in its character. He said it was necessary to get together a good group of people, to put social life into the church and to try to do something in a definite social way. He advised the young people not to go to a book, or to the pastor or an older person, before deciding what they wished to do, but to study it out for themselves and do it in their own way. He said an effort should be made to create a social atmosphere in the church and its societies, saying that the church is a social organization and human nature is social in its character.

Extremes Unnecessary.

Mr. Hays said it was not necessary to have a theatrical entertainment, a dance or a card party, to have a good time, and said it was the duty of the Christian young people to show that they could have a good time, without these things that have the name of the "Wild in them." He said the young Christian should let his Christian training guide him in all his amusements.

After the playing of the Intermezzo from "Cavalleria Rusticana," the Rev. D. W. Crane of the First Methodist Episcopal church, another newcomer to the Supplementary Method.

He said he would suggest what might be called a "supplementary" business method of arousing more interest in work, in case it should be found impossible to have the workers thoroughly converted. This was to change the front seat of the church, and to get young people out of the back seats and make them take the front seats, to suggest to the middle-aged and older ones that they take the back seats and let the young ones run the institution in their own way.

He said it was important to give the young people a greater responsibility in the work of the church and said he would give them a greater representation in the official roster of the church, making them responsible for special features of the work and infusing new life into the church.

"I would suggest these two things," said the speaker, "putting the young people in the front ranks of their society and letting them run it in an up-to-date fashion, and then let them feel a greater responsibility in the work of the church."

There's nothing like sham in fanned Wasatch ham.

It's rich and it's all to the good.

There's lean 'round the bone and fat 'round the lean.

And it's packed, too, the way that it should.

SHIRLEY-MACMILLAN CO.

The only stationery and office supply store in Salt Lake City. The bill for their own printing office.

11 E. 3rd St. Both phones.

"WASATCH" BACON.

"A streak of fat, a streak of lean," With lots of goodness in between."

Daily Saltair Bathing Trains

9:30, returns 11:45; 2:00, returns 4:30.

CITY BREVITIES.

ELDER T. H. WHIPPLE, of 857 Park avenue leaves next Friday on a mission to Great Britain. Tomorrow evening his friends will give a farewell party at the Odd Fellows' hall, on Market street, the meeting taking place at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

THE DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS will hold their next regular meeting Friday evening, Sept. 24, at their quarters in Odd Fellows' hall, on Market street, the meeting taking place at 8 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

THE CELEBRATION of the fourth anniversary of the founding of the city, which was announced to take place at the Masonic temple this evening, has been postponed.

Any kind of worth-while business plan may be furthered by want advertisement.

NOT AN AM